Foreword

When Michelangelo painted the creation of man on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel, he depicted God the Father reaching out to touch the lifeless hand of Adam. The living, powerful hand of God thereby communicated life to Adam and to his posterity. This bestowal of bodily life was accompanied by the more wondrous and gratuitous act, that of conferring on man a share in the very life of God, sanctifying grace.

Throughout the pages of the Old Testament we see God reaching out to touch man's intellect with the light of His divine revelation; and with the Incarnation, Christ, the Son of the Father, brings to man the fulness of life. The Church, which is Christ, continues to communicate this deposit of Faith.

This being the Church's task in the world, education is a vital part of her divine mission. To the souls under her care she unfolds the unchanging truths of God. For those outside her fold, she prays and works that the light of truth may be accepted by them. Ever conscious of this duty, the Church has convened the 21st Ecumenical Council, the Second Vatican Council. The primary purpose of this council in the words of Pope John XXIII is "that the sacred deposit of Christian doctrine should be guarded and taught more efficaciously."

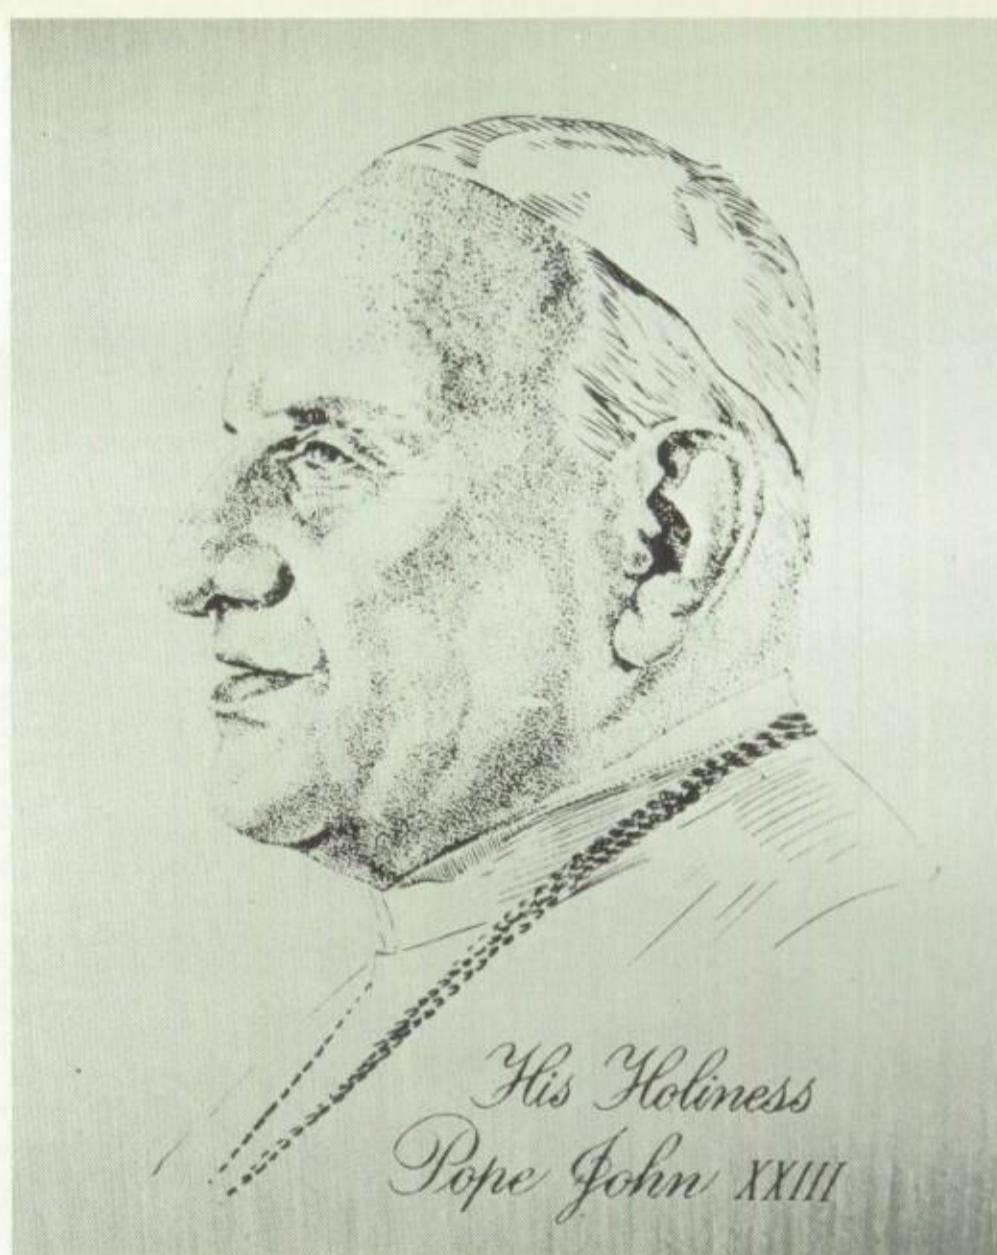

Man's progress in technological advancement can create a society in which he will rapidly lose his humanity because of his inability to believe. Catholic education must, by a steadfast presentation of truth, offset those inroads that make the mastery of matter and its forces the ultimate aim and purpose of man's intellectual achievement. The horizon of man's learning capacity only recedes with his greater and more profound understanding of the mysteries of nature, and its perimeter must be the sublime realization that the things he discovers are as they are because eternal Truth has created them so.

Dedicated to the Memory of His Holiness Pope John XXIII

The faculty and students of Monsignor McClancy Memorial High School humbly dedicate this 1963 McClancian to His Holiness Pope John XXIII in grateful acknowledgment of the Christian example and inspiration that he has bequeathed to all humanity.

As Supreme Pontiff, he extended himself beyond the five hundred million Catholic souls in his care unto the whole family of mankind. As Bishop of Rome and as the Servant of the Servants of God, he went out seeking his flock in homes, hospitals and prisons. As Good Shepherd, he eased many of the old tensions that have disrupted Christianity. As universal Pastor, he engendered in our world a sense of the brotherhood of all men under the Fatherhood of God. As Holy Father, he continued as his predecessors to bring the Christian message through modern communications into the homes of the sons of God. As pilot of the Bark of Peter, he guided the Church through the narrows of modern evils, communism, materialism and atheism. As Descendant of the Apostles, he unsheathed the sword of Paul and convoked Vatican Council II in an attempt to cut away all that separates souls from Christ. As Pope of the Council Renewal, he would leave to his successor the Bride of Christ "without spot or wrinkle."

But as an optimist in a world threatened by nuclear annihilation, he leaves us his dearest legacy in prescribing the only remedy for this world's troubles. For to anyone broken in spirit who came to him complaining about the inroads of materialism or the corruption of society, he replied with Christ: We are the light of the world. Our light must shine so brightly before men that they can see our good works, and glorify our Father Who is in heaven.

Pope John XXIII

Continue to pray for the success of the Second Vatican Council

"In calling this vast assembly of bishops, the latest and humble successor of the Prince of the Apostles who is addressing you intended to assert once again the Church's magisterium (teaching authority), which is unfailing and continues until the end of time, in order that this magisterium, taking into account the errors, the requirements and the opportunities of our time, might be presented in exceptional form to all men throughout the world."

"Illuminated by the light of this council, the Church—We confidently trust—will become greater in spiritual riches and, gaining new energies therefrom, She will look to the future without fear."

"... the Church has not watched inertly the marvelous progress of the discoveries of human genius and has not been backward in evaluating them rightly. But, while following these developments, she does not neglect to admonish men so that, over and above sense-perceived things, they may raise their eyes to God, the Source of all wisdom and beauty."

"The greatest concern of the ecumenical council is this: that the sacred deposit of Christian doctrine should be guarded and taught more efficaciously. That doctrine embraces the whole of man, composed as he is of body and soul. And, since he is a pilgrim on this earth, it commands him to tend always toward Heaven."

—From the speech of Pope John XXIII at the opening of the II Vatican Council.

His Excellency Most Reverend Bryan J. McEntegart

Two years from now more than 13,000 Catholic teenagers will be enrolled in six new diocesan high schools.

Until Bishop Bryan J. McEntegart first proclaimed an ambitious building campaign for the Diocese of Brooklyn in January 1960, no one had really gauged how deeply Catholic parents felt the need for more Catholic high schools. Parishoners in Brooklyn and Queens then responded magnificently, often with doubled and trebled pledges, and have practically doubled the $20,000,000 originally planned to $36,700,000.

This past school year four new high schools—Bishop Ford, Nazareth, Christ the King and Bishop Reilly—joined Bishop Kearney and Mater Christi High Schools and opened their doors to the sons and daughters of these parishoners. May there be many more schools to follow!

The new Sacred Heart Novitiate, located at Belvidere, New Jersey, consists of eighty-seven acres of rolling hills, landscaped terraces and shrubbery.

The Novitiate is a period devoted to the spiritual development of young men prior to their taking the vows of religion.

A very generous portion of the support of the novices has been defrayed by the contributions of the Novitiate Auxiliaries in the Brothers' schools.

Excellency Bishop George W. Ahr, Bishop of Trenton, addresses the large gathering of Clergy, Brothers, and guests who witnessed the dedication of the new novitiate on September 16, 1962.

Assisting His Excellency during the blessing of the Sacred Heart Novitiate were Right Reverend James H. Casey and Right Reverend Robert B. Mulcahey.

FACULTY

With the primary aim of the present Vatican Council being the more efficacious teaching of Catholic dogma, the dignity of the Catholic educator is spotlighted. At McClancy, Brothers of the Sacred Heart and laymen work side by side to form young Catholic men. Both, while following different paths to heaven, are united in their purpose of giving the students at McClancy an education second to none. This Christian training will serve as a basis for making a livelihood in this world, and for giving the students a Catholic perspective on their purpose on earth—to be united to God after a life in the service of their neighbors.

*Brother Reginald, S.C.
Principal*

Dear Graduates,

You have experienced during your youth one of the outstanding religious events of the century—the convening of the Second Vatican Council in Rome. You have also witnessed locally one of the greatest demonstrations of Catholic belief in education—the erection of six diocesan high schools. In both instances, the goal is the spreading of the word of God. However, do not lose sight of the fact that your parish is the fountain from which you immediately reap the benefits of the Church.

As you peruse the 1963 McClancian, you will note with delight the featuring of many of your parishes. Be proud of your allegiance and determine to give generously of your time and talents to insure a more active and flourishing parish.

In parting, permit me to extend to you in the name of the faculty the heartiest congratulations on your successful completion of high school. God bless you and take care of you in your future endeavors.

Yours in the Sacred Heart,

Brother Reginald, S.C.

ST. FRANCIS

The departure of a graduate is not a venture into the unknown. Though he treads the halls on a strange site, he cannot fail to note that somehow the atmosphere is the same. Nothing is new, but the old becomes developed, refined, and perfected. Careful guidance and direction in the truths of our Catholic faith garnish his progress in knowledge and science, wisely ministered by men of God and learning.

The college, the university, is but another milestone to eternal happiness which he can attain by acquiring the habit of giving greater glory to God by an unselfish abandon to the advancement and benefit of mankind.

Recognize any of our friends?

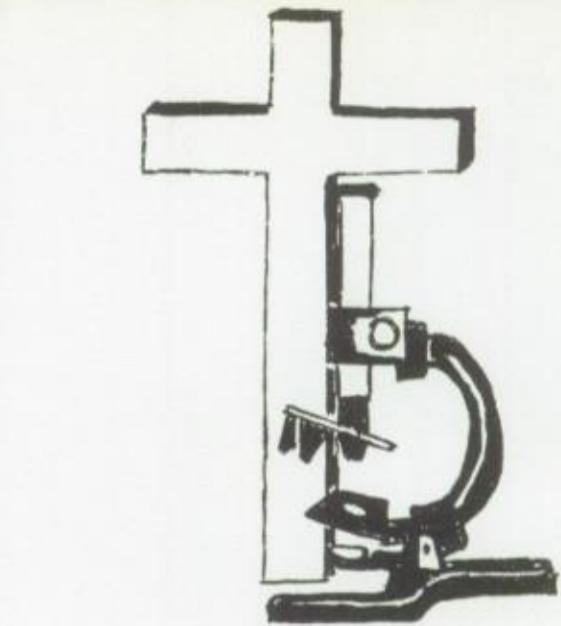

Remember the need for clarifying those problems in biology.

Remember how we, as freshmen, enjoyed our first dance at McClancy.

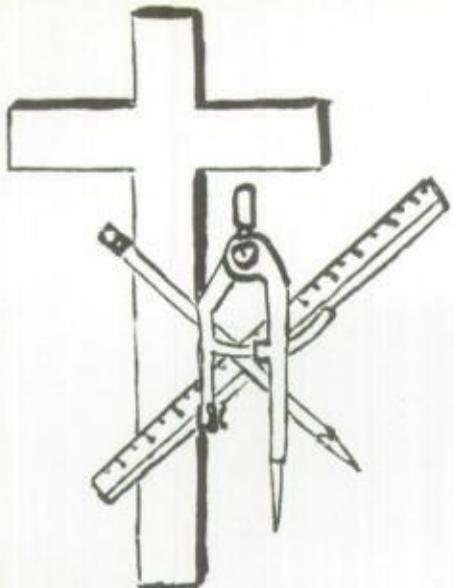

Remember the first experience at leadership in the Confraternity.

Memories '59-'60

The court jesters amused the king and the audience at the talent show.

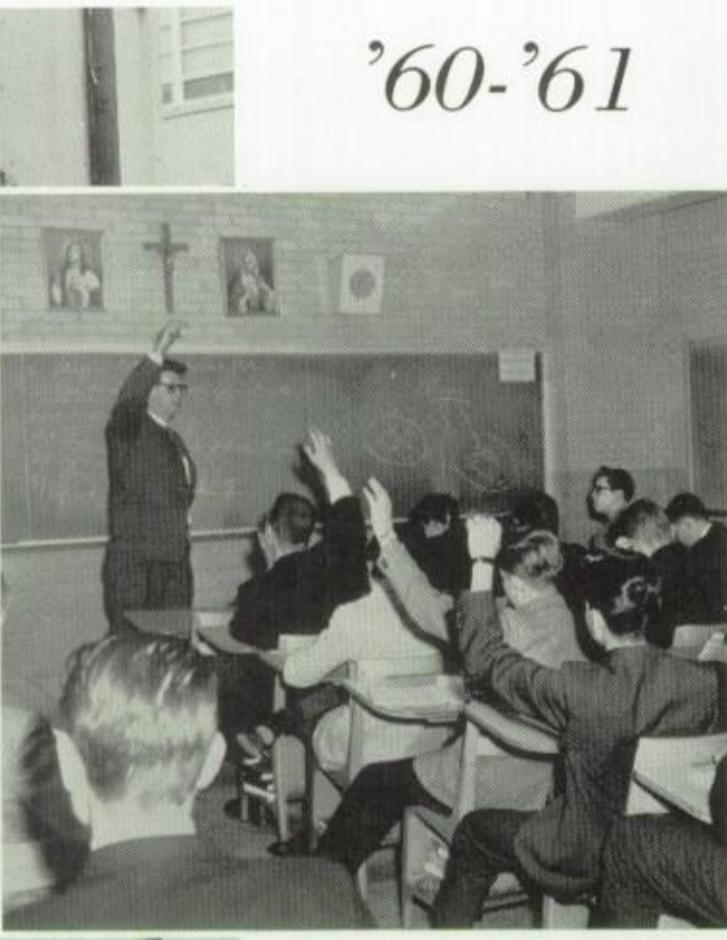

Memories

Remember the thrill of receiving a reward for a hard won victory.

'60-'61

Alert sophomores were quick to respond to a history question.

Remember how enthusiastically we prepared to root our Crusaders to victory for the oncoming games.

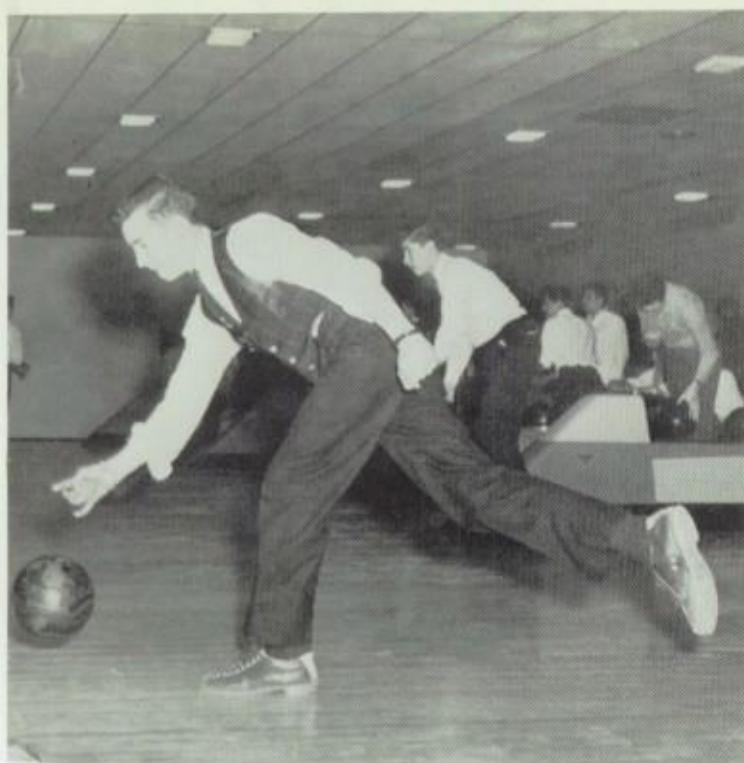

The action moves downcourt as tension mounts.

Back for another bold venture!

Is this what we looked like three years ago?

Perfect form scored in McClancy's bowling league.

Prayer during spare moments was heartily encouraged among the student body.

"Ooh, ooh, Francis, the McClancy Talent Show is a big success!"

Memories '61-'62

Industrious students took an active part in preparing the gym for a dance.

Dancers take a break to listen to guest singer.

CORPUS CHRISTI

Twenty-six years ago Corpus Christi Parish was established. Since then it has grown considerably, and in 1961 the school, rectory, convent, and auditorium were completed. Though the school has only six grades it has an enrollment of over six hundred students. While the Dominicans care for the pupils of the school, the spiritual needs of all parishioners are tended to by the pastor, Reverend John H. Murphy, ably assisted by Reverend William F. Carr, Reverend Thomas J. Lyons, and Reverend Anthony J. DeLuca.

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI

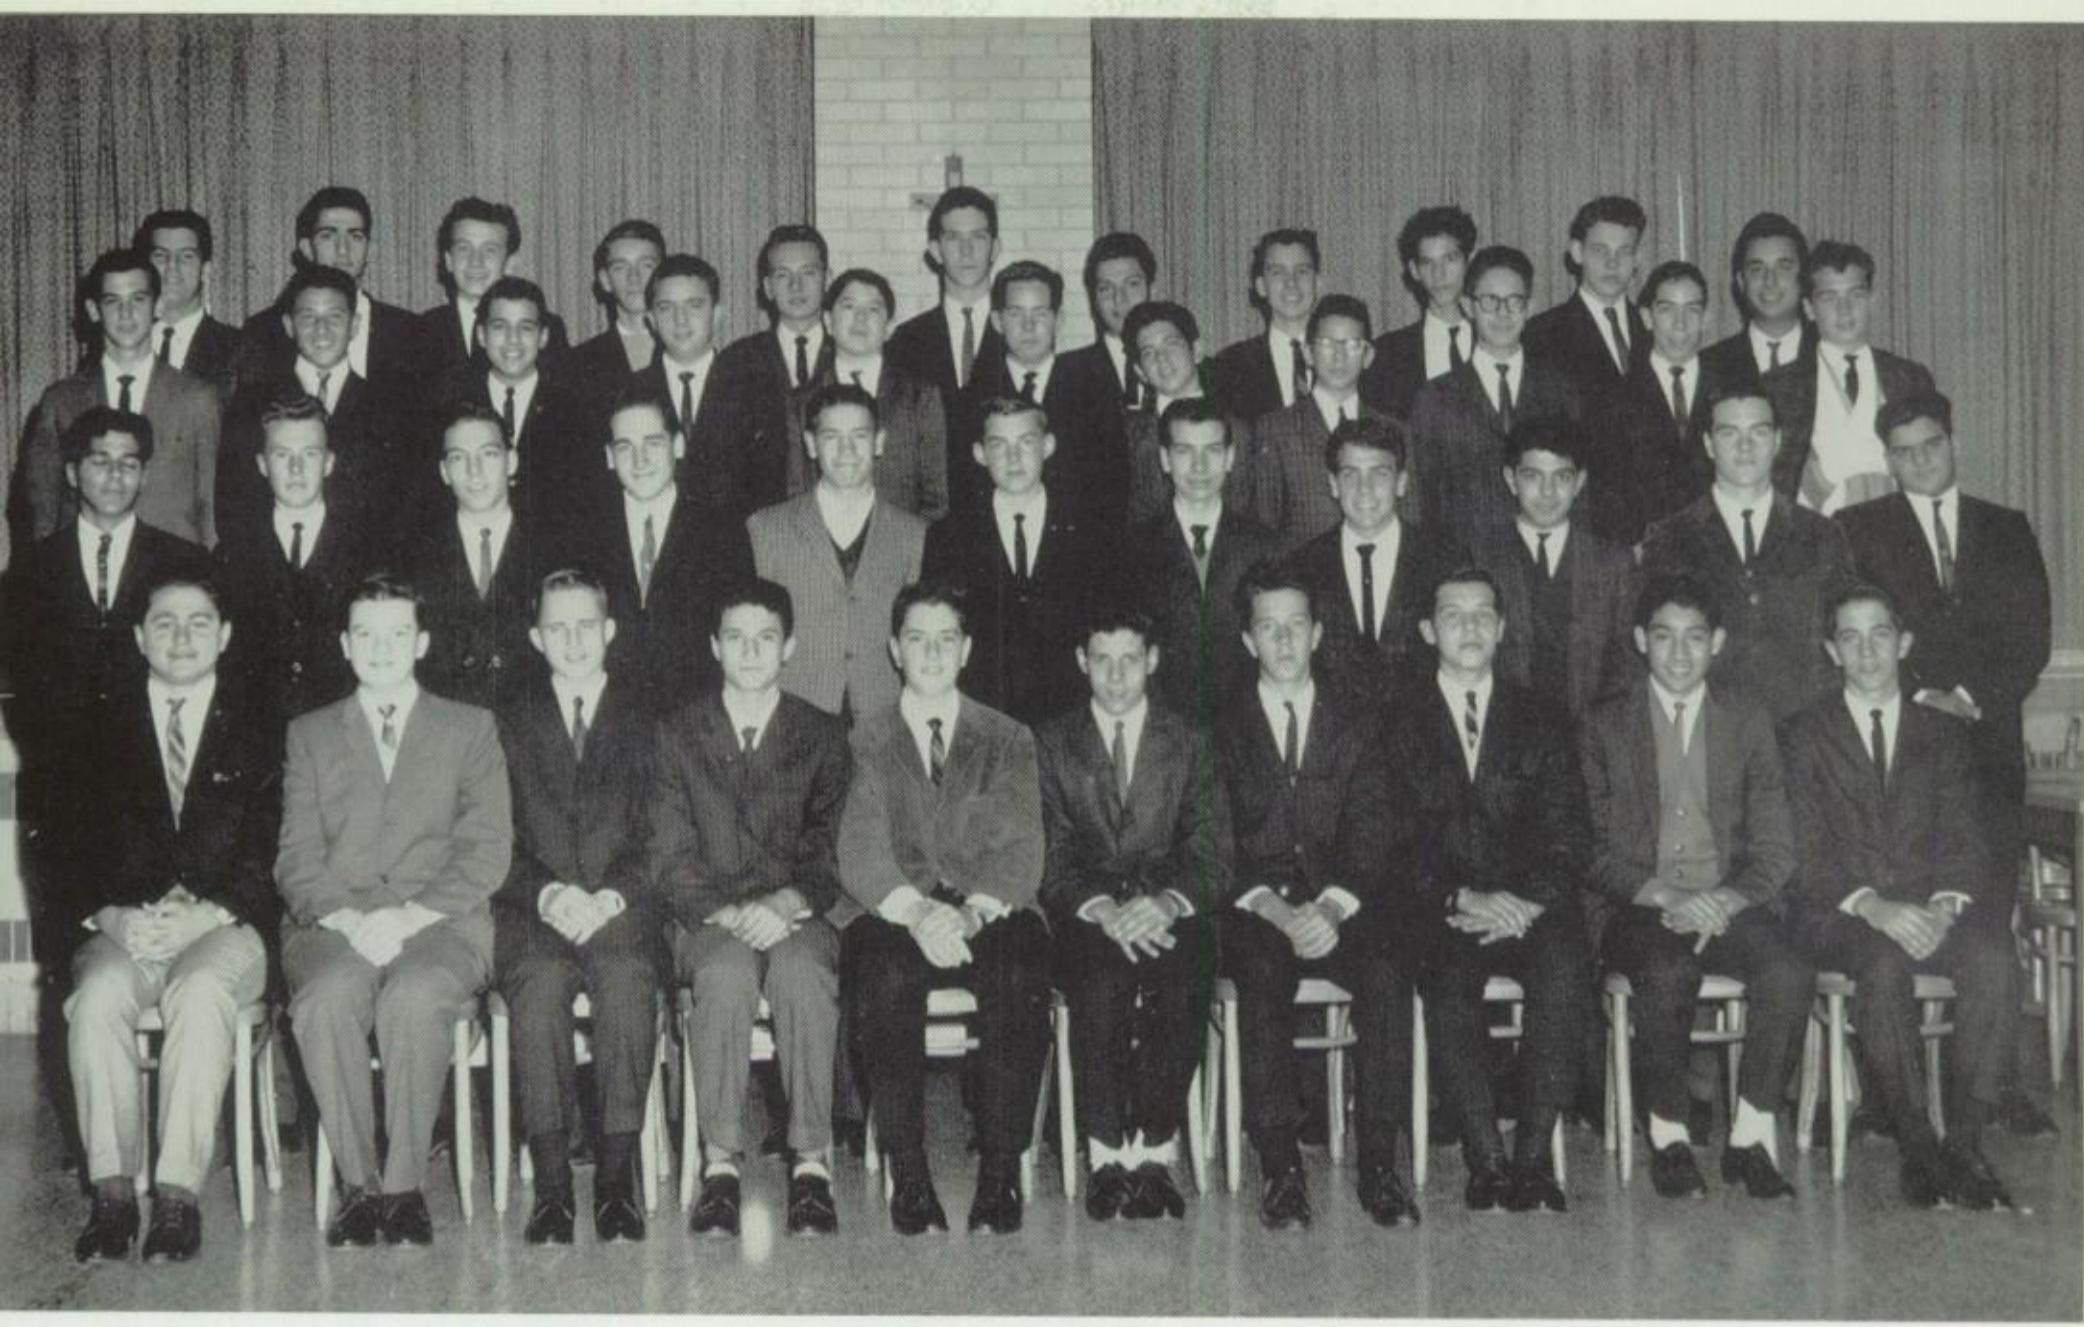

The parish of St. Francis of Assisi was founded in 1930 by its present pastor, Monsignor Joseph C. Schaeffner. The Dominican Sisters teach in the parish school whose enrollment is 1230. Assisting Monsignor Schaeffner are Rev. Joseph J. Schuck and Rev. Louis J. Scavo. The parish is particularly proud of its scouting program and continuous operation since 1935 and also of its vast C.Y.O. program in operation since 1947.

I wonder if I've reached them all, muses Brother Conan.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW

The parish of St. Bartholomew is located in Elmhurst. It boasts of seven buildings: two churches, a rectory, a friary, a convent and two schools. The total school enrollment is 1472 pupils. The boys are taught by the Franciscan Brothers.

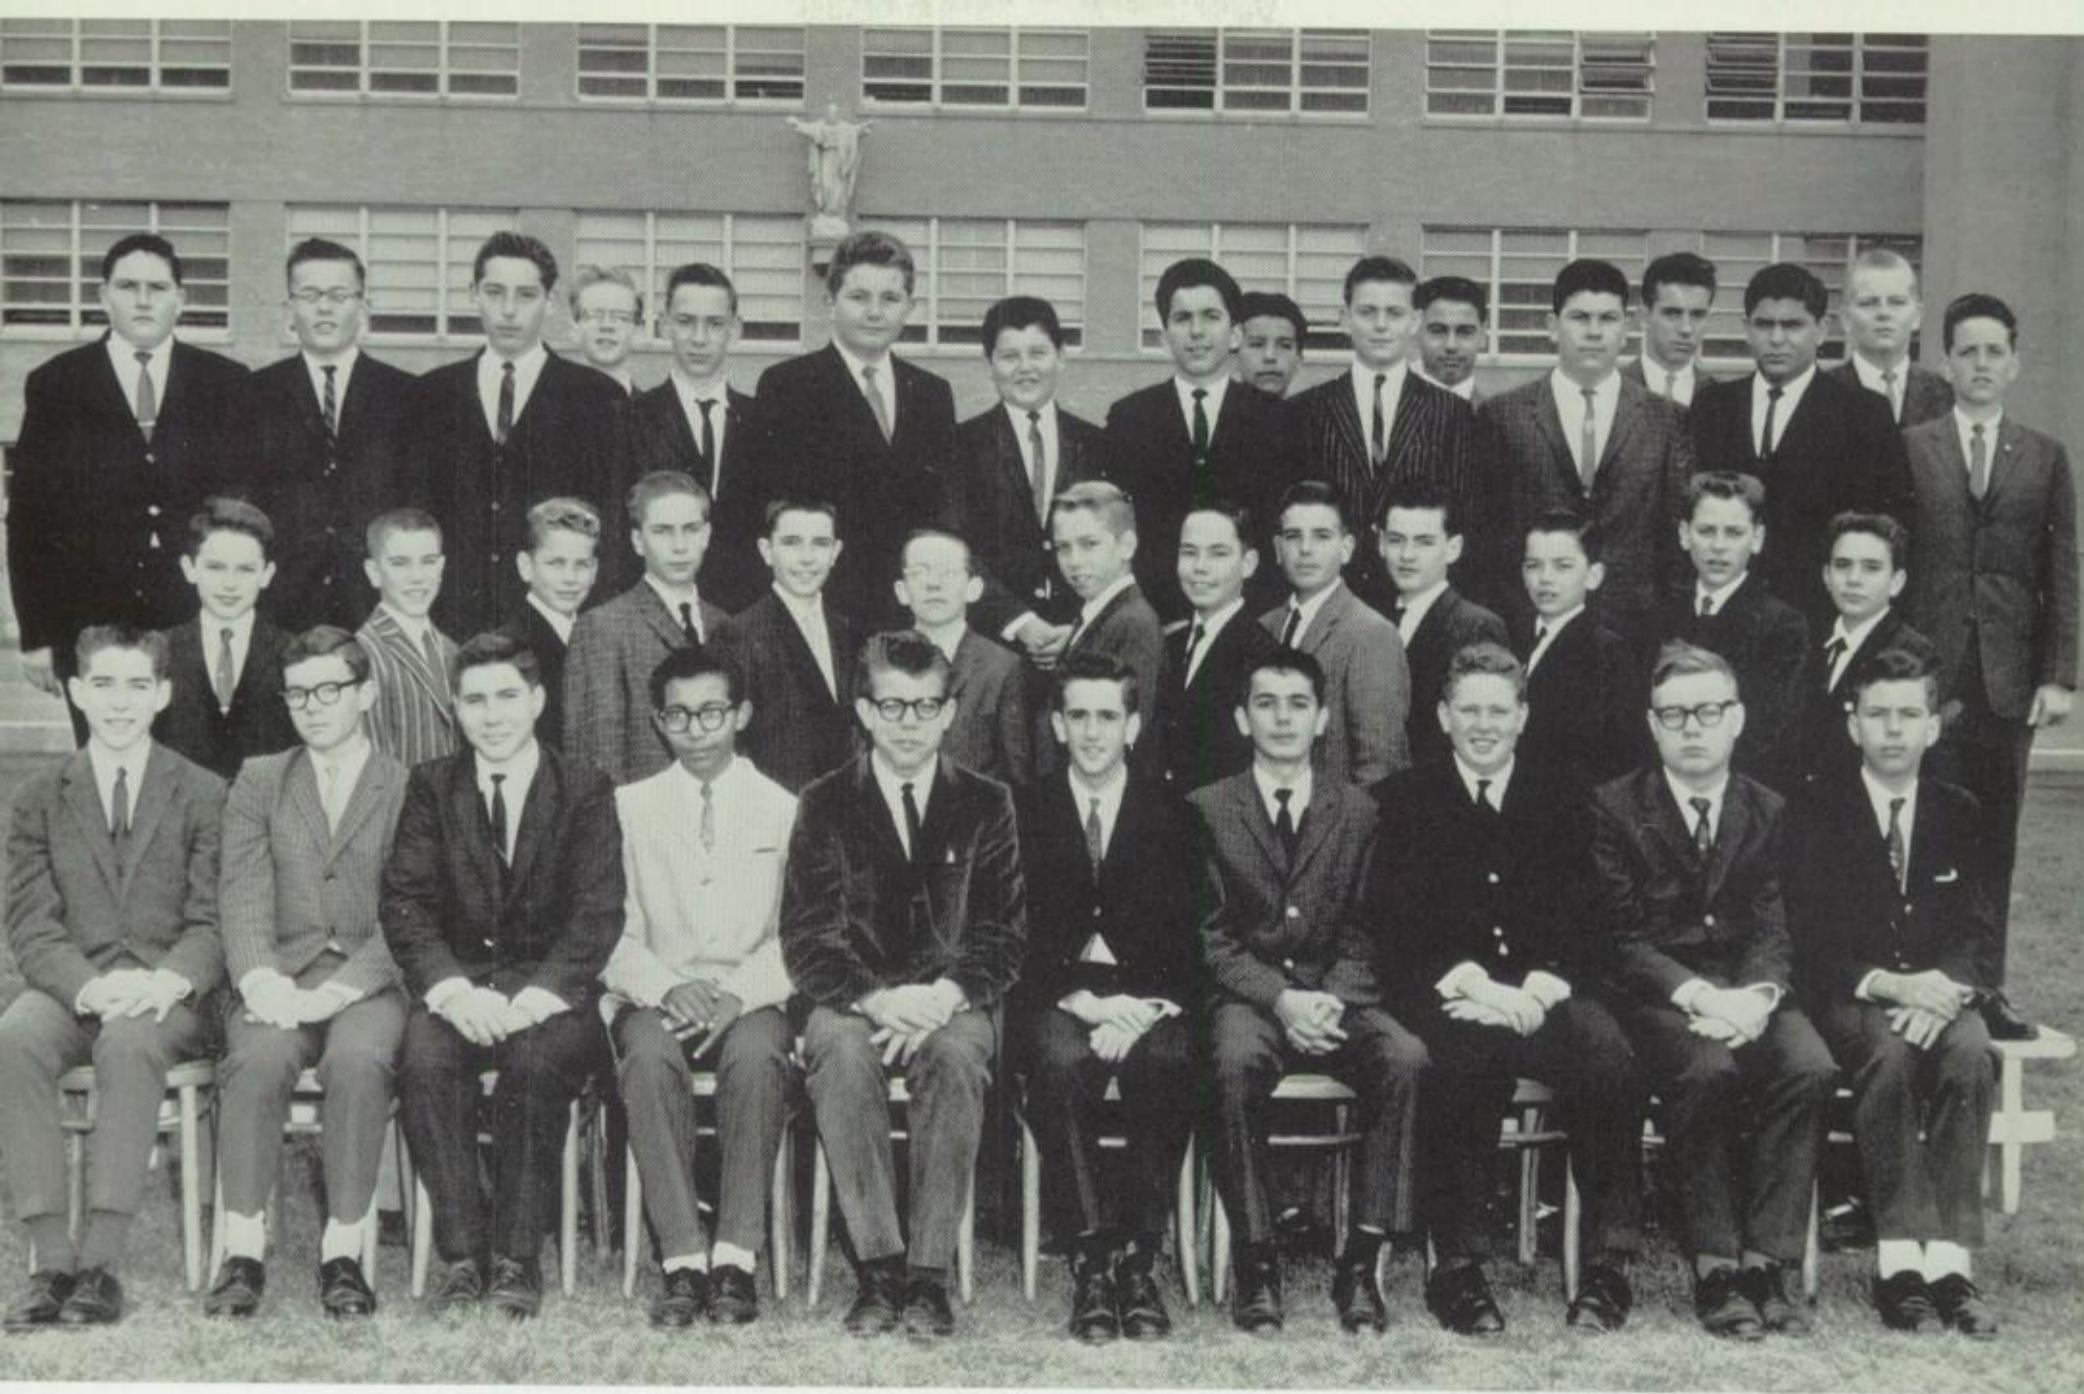

The pastor is Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel A. Dwyer and the curates are Rev. Kevin Greene, Rev. Francis McGee, Rev. Francis Evans, and Rev. Paul MacNitts.

ST. JOSEPH

St. Joseph's, founded in 1876, will celebrate its 87th anniversary this year. Since its first parish school, it has had two additions and now has an enrollment of 1620 students, taught by the Dominican Sisters of Amityville. St. Joseph's Parish has a very active program in the Catholic Youth Organization.

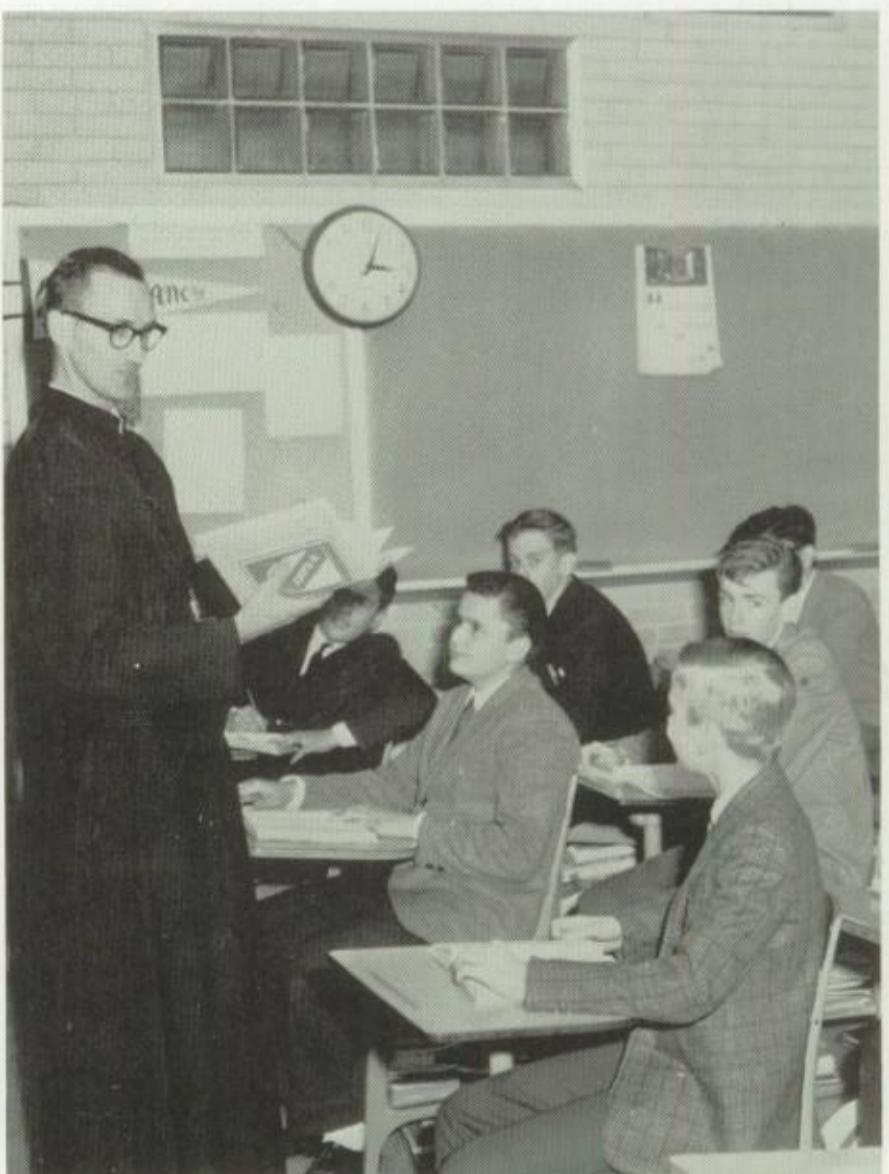

The pastor, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Richard B. McHugh, with the aid of the curates, Reverends Robert F. Rausch, Joseph T. Lahey, Neal D. Vaupel and Paul S. Lawrence, maintains high scholastic standards in the parish school and takes an active interest in parish activities.

ST. MARY HELP OF CHRISTIANS

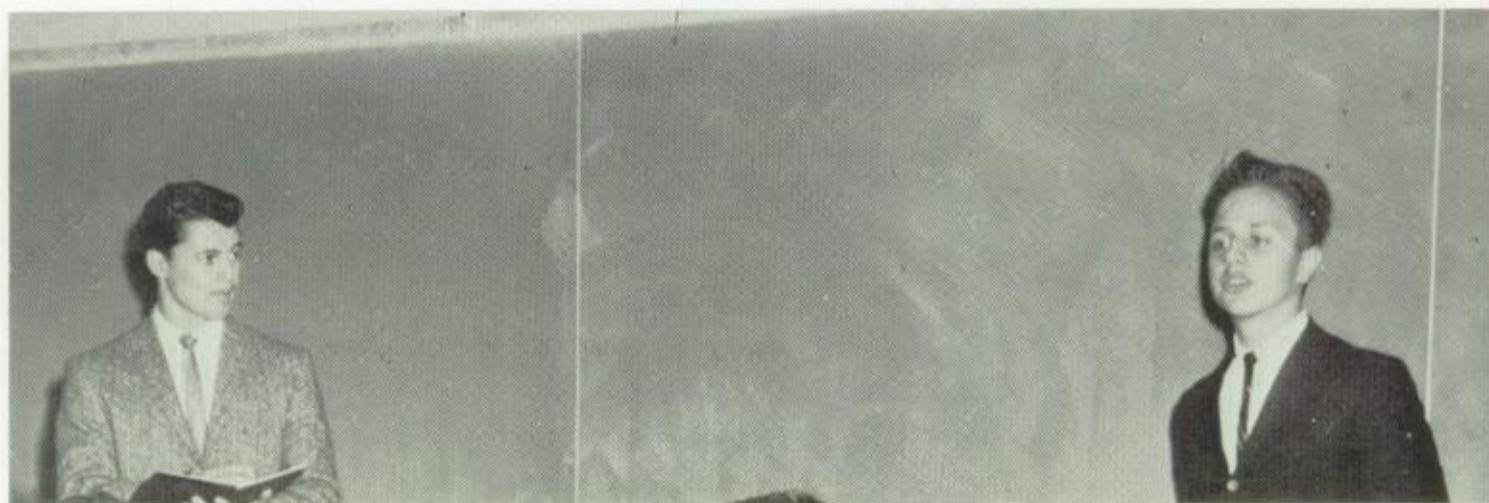

St. Mary's Church, administered by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Peter W. Fox, with the Reverends Martin R. Weisenfeld, Vincent J. Gallo, and Kenneth E. Kiernan, was founded in 1854. In 1888 fire struck and the parish buildings were destroyed. In 1954 St. Mary's Church celebrated its Centennial Anniversary. Four years later a new church was dedicated. The Dominican Sisters of Amityville have been in the parish since 1869. Present school enrollment is 1141.

ST. SEBASTIAN

St. Sebastian's, founded in 1894, is capably governed by its pastor Rev. Edward Lodge Curran, with the assistance of his curates: Rev. James F. O'Leary, Rev. James E. McInenly, Rev. Arthur W. Pote, Rev. John Gallagher and Rev. Michael Faherty.

St. Sebastian's is one of the larger parishes in the diocese of Brooklyn and has a school enrollment of about 1360 students. An interesting fact about the parish is that the Woodside Theater was purchased and converted into the present parish church in 1955.

ACTIVITIES

From the Middle Ages has emerged man's most revered soldier image, the fighting saint, the Crusader! Here was not just a sword or a lance, but a complete man, an honest and polite gentil homme with the courage to pursue his ideals into combat.

Monsignor McClancy Memorial High School has always revered this chivalrous image in its school activities. Whether it be developing personality through public speaking, character through religious confraternities, knowledge through curriculum clubs, or physical well being through sports, the ideal of a complete boy—chivalrous, honest, and persevering—has always been a guiding school ideal.

Vatore Corda and Frank Altieri, McClancy's affirmative team, gathered information on the Common Market.

The first varsity debate tournament of the year was held in Jeffersonville, New York. It was here that McClancy began its most successful year. At Georgetown, Washington, D.C., Paul Wakeford and Frank Altieri won fourth place in this nation-wide contest among 118 schools. Wakeford also won an award as seventh best speaker at the tournament.

At St. Peter's College in New Jersey, our team won fifth place, one step away from another school trophy. At Columbia University, Wakeford and Altieri repeated their success and won awards as sixth and seventh best speakers, respectively. At N.Y.U., St. John's University, and the various league contests, McClancy proved it could hold its own and fared very well.

McClancians Top City Speakers in Oratory, Dramatics

In city-wide Catholic Forensic League competition in mid-March, Basil Bliss and Kevin Gardiner took first place in oratory and dramatics respectively. A day later Bliss won first place in the Catholic War Veterans Oratorical Contest for Brooklyn and Queens.

The speech club, under the direction of Mr. William Kearns, competes in three different fields: oratory, dramatics and extemporaneous speaking. Oratory is the delivering of an oration either written by the speaker himself or borrowed from another source. The interpretation of some selection from literature is the field of dramatics. Finally, extemporaneous speaking is the delivering of an address on some topic without any previous preparation.

Glee Club

GLEE CLUB

McClancy can be justly proud of the progress the glee club has achieved this year. Beginning its program by singing at the drama club's production of Ten Little Indians, the glee club went on to sing at Dante's, at Coler Hospital and at Goldwater Hospital. However, its best performance was witnessed at the annual talent show in March.

The future looks even brighter for the glee club. Besides the increase in membership, superior tone quality in singing is being secured. If development continues at its present pace, the glee club will sponsor both a concert and a musical next year.

Our glee club always comes through with a sparkling performance.

Missing: Thomas Raleigh.

How does one find consolation in a four and fourteen won-and-lost record? Well, it is not too difficult when one looks at the season in retrospect.

The nucleus of the McClancy Varsity for the '62-'63 season was composed of juniors which, of course, means that we will not be hurt seriously by graduation. One needs only recall some outstanding performances to realize that McClancy's basketball prospects for next season are high. Among those highlights were the brilliant defensive play of John Griffin in holding Chaminade's All-City backcourt ace Al Swartz to five points, or John Houlihan's consistent accuracy in shooting, or Bob Sanicola's rebounding and moves off the high post, or Don Holden's ball-handling and passing, or Tom Bardong's rebounding and shooting during the second half of the season, or big John McMahon's improved play during the last five games.

Certainly we will miss the seniors of this year's squad, especially our Co-Captains Marty Amitrano and Joe Doyle. However, we expect their loss to be offset by some of the outstanding players on this year's junior varsity.

Amitrano breaks downcourt for a score.

Cross-Country

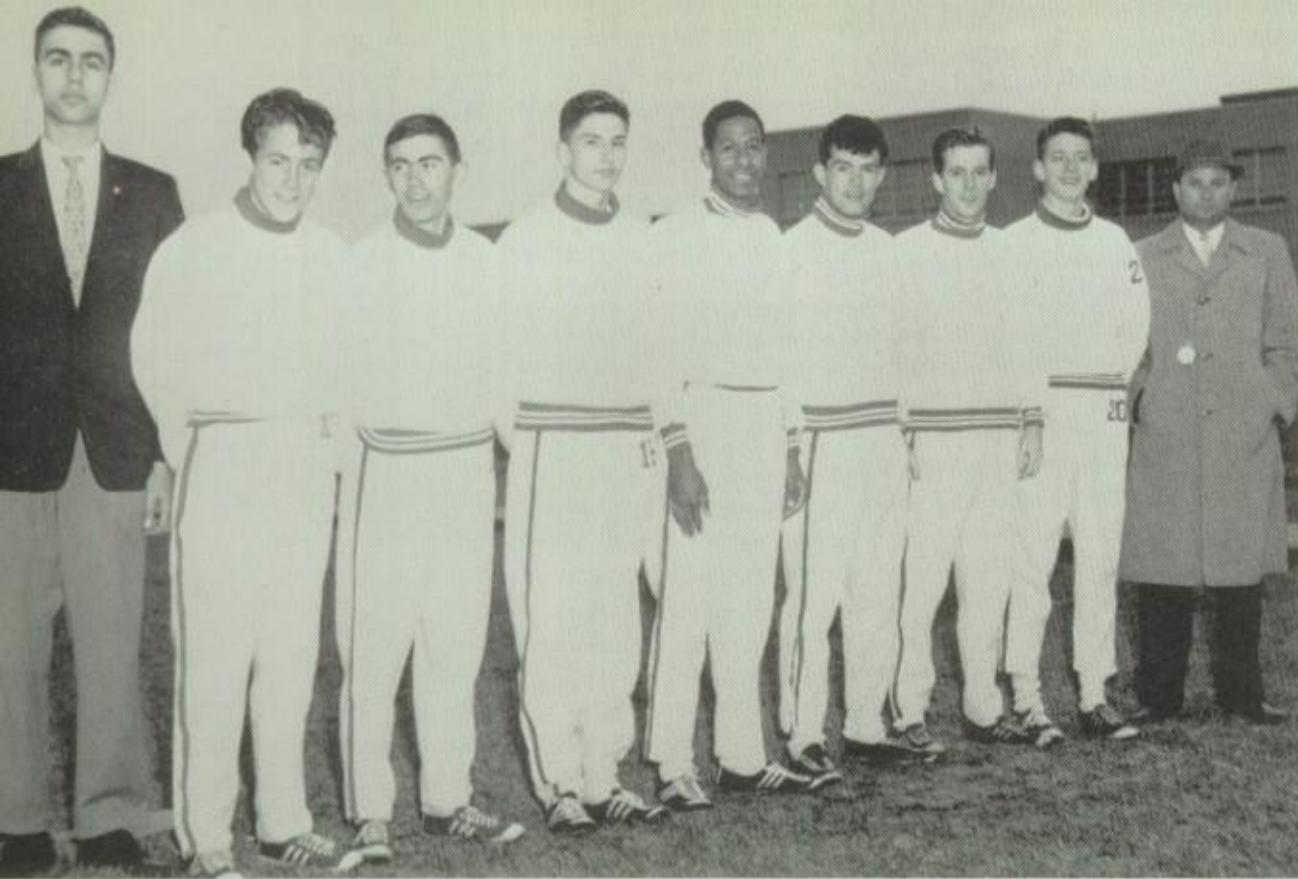

The McClancy varsity cross-country record time stood at 14:31 before the start of the 1962 season. That time was bettered this past year by no less than four varsity members: seniors Ricky Urbina and Bill Marshall; juniors Marty Farrell and Jim Michelini; with a fifth member, Bob Connolly, just missing the old mark.

Week after week Ricky Urbina led the Crusaders in setting new record times. He now holds the record at 13:42.

Under the capable coaching of Mr. Harry Howell, the McClancy team finished no lower than eighth place in any meet. The best team effort was third place in the Private School Championships.

Coach Howell looks to members of this year's junior varsity team to bring the Crusaders closer to the top.

The freshmen, under the direction of Brothers Stanislaus and Xavier, won the greatest number of medals of any McClancy frosh team.

Track

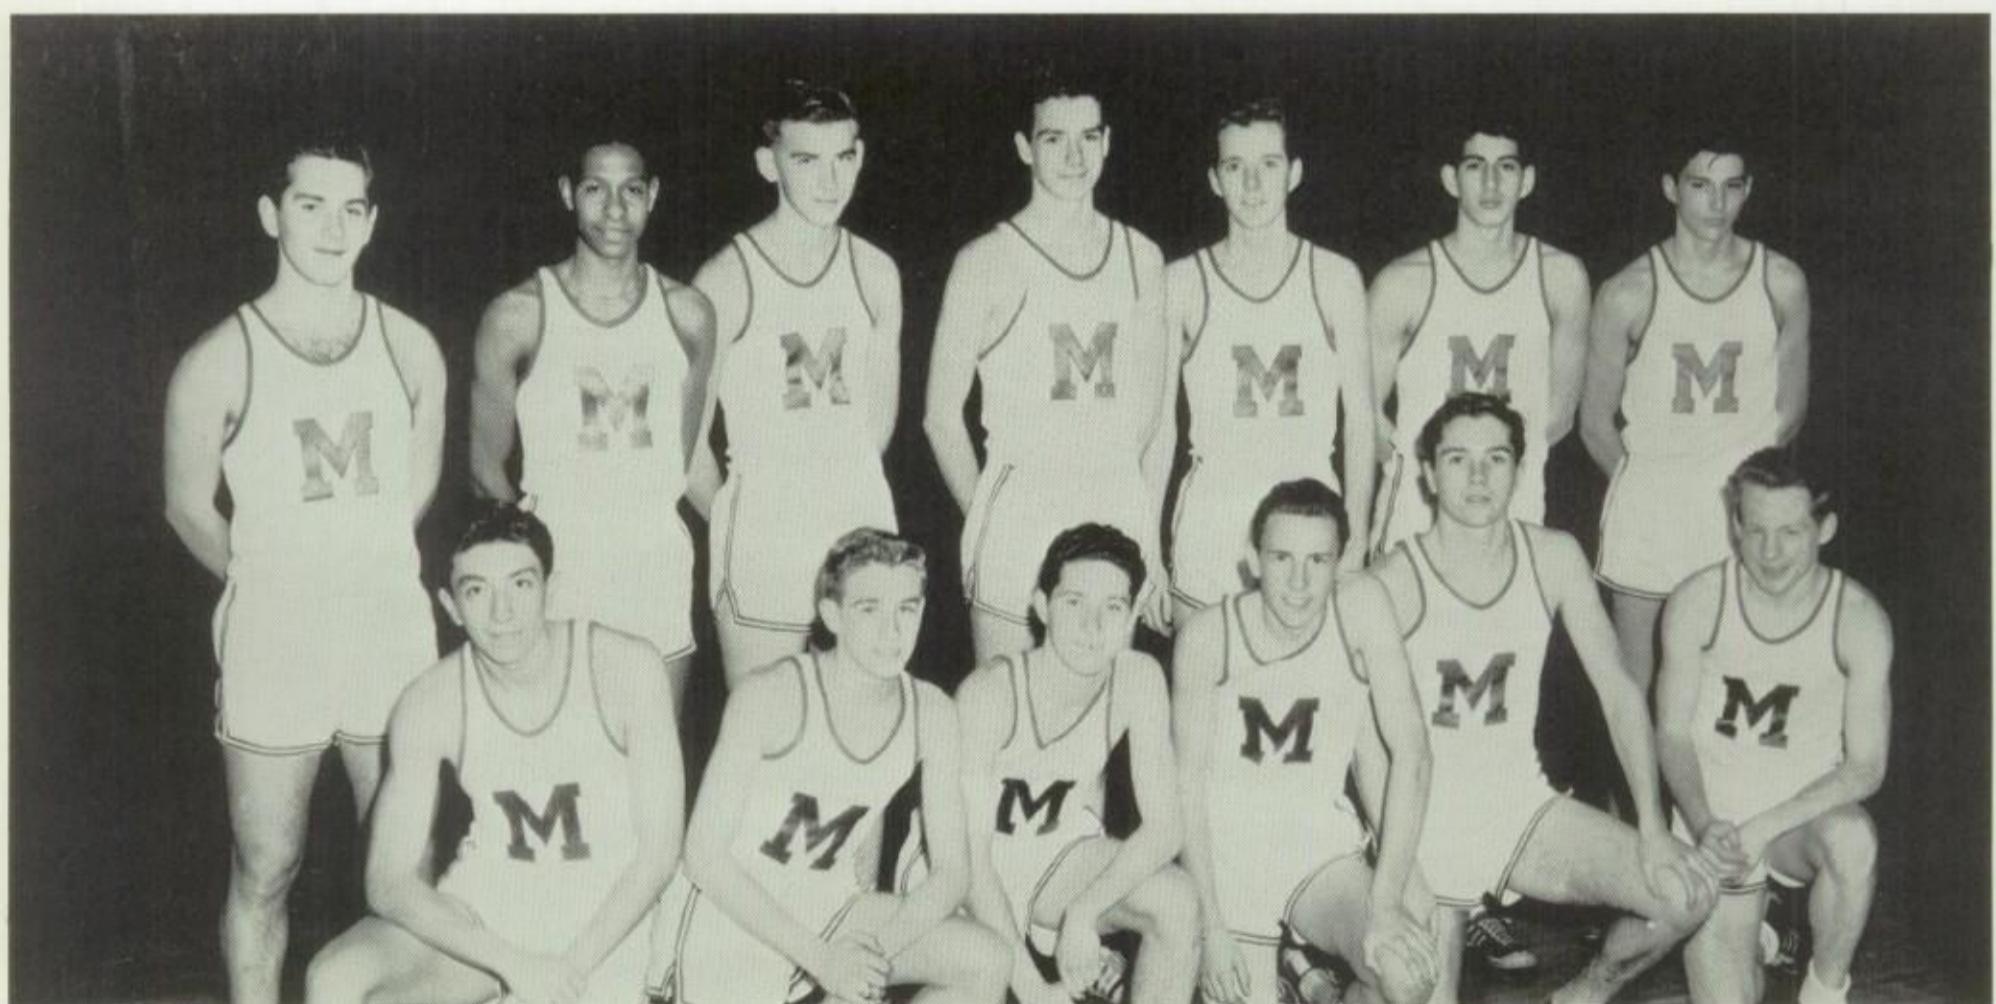

The Crusaders' '62-'63 indoor track season was the best to date. Our national champion, Ricky Urbina, was undefeated in six major meets and set meet records in five of these. Also, the McClancy cindermen under Coach Harry Howell had not only the best 880-relay team, but the best team in this division in Catholic high school competition. This team consisted of Tim Kelly, Roger Roth, Bob Tassie, and Walter Campbell. Tim Shannon replaced Campbell when the latter pulled a muscle.

The future track hopes of McClancy look bright. This year's freshman team broke the school records in the mile relay, half-mile, quarter-mile, and 100-yard dash. Larry Guise, Andy McGrattan, John Brandeis, Bob Springer, and Larry Mazzarella led the assault on the record books.

Finally, the team efforts of the varsity, junior varsity, and freshmen gave McClancy two second place trophies.

This McClancian is not good; he's great!

The Crusaders emerged a respected team at the end of last year's spring season. Mr. Vernon Bauer guided the team through a 7-7 season.

This past fall a young varsity team captured second place in the CHSAA fall season with a 5-2 record.

Bob Desposito, Tom Raleigh and Richie D'Elia, each of whom pitched a shutout, gave McClancy a strong pitching staff last fall. Dan Coleman and Vincent Mone provided the Crusaders with a strong double-play combination. These factors together with the improved hitting of Jim Melanson, Jerry O'Neill, and Don Holden will make McClancy a strong contender for the sectional championship this spring.

Bowling

McClancy entered a new field of activity this year when bowling teams were organized to compete on the varsity and junior varsity levels interscholastically. Bowling against top-notch competition, the varsity keglers were denied their quest for a play-off position. A highlight of the season was Sylvester Celebrini's performance in gaining the second place position in the Christmas Singles Tournament. Competition was keen all season long among Celebrini, Bob Maffia, and Dan DeSocio for high average.

The junior varsity had its exciting moments, but they too were unable to place among the play-off teams. Their consistent bowling gained for them a sixth place spot in the eleven team league. Here too the high average honor was closely contested among Joe Costa, Walt Schuler, and Bill Edwards.

Brother Conan congratulates Sylvester Celebrini for his second place victory in the Christmas singles bowling tournament.

ROOM 301
SENIOR CHAMPIONS

Room 302 had built up an impressive lead in the senior intramural competition by winning both the Tablet Drive and the Mission Drive. In spite of this, Room 301 with victories in four out of the last five contests emerged with the Golden Goblet.
Totals: Room 301—2960; Room 302—2755.

JUNIOR CHAMPIONS

Room 306 wasted no time in taking the lead for the Goblet. The champs won just four events, but they were able to battle off repeated challenges from Rooms 303 and 304.
Totals: Room 306—3320; Room 303—3050; Room 304—2645.

SOPHOMORE CHAMPIONS

A three-way battle for the Golden Goblet was broken up by Room 104. The Goblet had changed hands several times between Rooms 101 and 205 before Room 104 took possession for good in April. The champions had the distinction of leading the entire school in the Mission Drive.
Totals: Room 104—4610; Room 205—4580; Room 101—3930.
